4 Definitions:

- Health or wellbeing setting includes but is not limited to: the aged care, acute care, community support, disability, mental health, social services, whānau ora providers, and youth development sectors.
- Organisational policies and procedures: policies, procedures, and methodologies of an organisation. They include legislative and regulatory requirements which may apply across an organisation, a specific site, or a workplace. Requirements are documented in organisational health and safety plans, contract work programmes, quality assurance programmes, policies, and procedural documents such as job descriptors and employment contracts.
- Person: a person accessing services. Other terms used for the person may include client, consumer, customer, individual, resident, service user, tangata whai ora, and tangata whai kaha.
- Person-centred approach: a mana enhancing approach which places the person being supported at the centre by encouraging participation and choice, and viewing them as an individual with unique qualities, abilities, interests, preferences and needs.
- Personal plan: a generic term that covers the individual or group plans (which may also be referred to by other names) that are developed for people receiving support (and may include their family and whānau as appropriate).

5 Evidence is required of two different personal plans for two different people.

6 This unit standard cannot be assessed against in a simulated environment. For assessment, candidates must demonstrate competence in the workplace through paid or unpaid employment, or in service provider workplace placements.

Outcomes and performance criteria

Outcome 1
